

Trisha Chan

GENERAL COUNSEL

Trisha is a U.S. trained attorney with over 20 years of experience as a corporate lawyer at multi-national, publicly-listed technology and healthcare companies. Serving on the executive team, she is a corporate generalist with significant “hands-on” and management experience in all aspects of a global legal function. She is responsible for and oversees all legal matters, including corporate and commercial transactions, technology licensing and strategy, intellectual property, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, employment matters, and entity level compliance and ethics.

Prior to joining ecoSPIRITS in 2020, Trisha was a legal compliance consultant at a number of multi-national companies in Singapore. Prior to that, Trisha was Associate General Counsel at Rambus Inc., a NASDAQ listed technology licensing company in Silicon Valley, California. At Rambus, she was responsible for the corporate department which included corporate governance, company compliance, financial reporting, mergers and acquisitions and HR and employment. Earlier in her career, she was a technology licensing attorney at Applied Biosystems, a leader in the life sciences research industry.
